The Cast

Fred Sharkey (Marty) - Fred began his on-stage performances in 1998 and has appeared in 44 different productions throughout the Bay Area which includes two productions with Santa Clara Players. During that time [and in the 11 years since], Fred has designed and built 81 theatre sets. Now is the time to test the acting skills again. Wish us both luck.

Pat Cross (Deb) - So glad to be on stage again! Pat has performed in over 10 plays with Santa Clara Players and was last seen as Southern belle Kitty in The Last Virginity Tour (one of her all-time favorites). In addition to performing with SCP, she's performed with Northside Theatre Company, Broadway West, Mostly Irish Theater, and Tabard. Pat enjoys both dramas and comedies and in addition to theatre, was featured in several independent short films and did voiceover work for a full length animated film. She has no intention of retiring anytime soon.

Andrew Carrell (Fred) - Andrew is making his return to Santa Clara Players. He previously appeared here as Father Chenille in Drinking Habits. Prior to moving to the Bay Area he lived in Detroit, where he appeared as Caiaphas in Jesus Christ Superstar. He has also appeared in such roles in the Houston area as Mal Beineke in The Addams Family Musical, Henry Lodge in Move Over, Mrs. Markham, Superintendent Battle in Towards Zero, and before that in productions in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania and Philadelphia. When not on stage he's an Android Developer for National Express, and currently lives in San Jose with his cat, Rudi.

Diane Thorne (Gladys) - Diane is thrilled to be returning to Santa Clara Players in A Red Plaid Shirt. After too many decades in the tech industry, she finally decided to return to her first love, acting, and figures being a starving artist is worth exploring, at least until the cupboards are completely bare. Her favorite role during her second childhood so far was Viola McGee in The Lost Virginity Tour with the wonderful folks at Santa Clara Players. Unlike her character, Gladys, she has no desire to fly on any “germ tubes” soon and really hopes you all are wearing masks right now.

Kimi Carey (Assistant-Director/Stage Manager/Tech) - Kimi made her theater debut as Suzanna Walcott in a production of The Crucible at Canada College. She has an Associate's Degree in Theater Arts from Canada College and a Bachelor's Degree in Theater Arts from Notre Dame deNamur University. She has worked as an assistant stage-manager at Hillbarn Theatre, Palo Alto Players, and Role Players Ensemble. She was an extra in Brad Pitt's film Moneyball, a scare-performer in Winchester Fright Nights 2011, has performed in dance shows at N.D.N.U. and College of San Mateo, and performed as a clown for Mountain View Academy's clown ministries (her high school). She is thrilled and proud to be a part of this production.
